

Possibility One

HE CHASES A BALL.

Through your neighbor's newly poured cement patio. Your Insurance-At-Work homeowners policy pays to repair the patio...and puts you back on solid footing with your neighbor.

Possibility Two

HE CHASES YOUR CAR.

Insurance-At-Work auto coverage pays to fix the fender you dented when you missed the dog...and hit your neighbor's car.

Possibility Three

HE CHASES THE MAILMAN.

With Insurance-At-Work's payroll deduction, your payments are made automatically each pay period. Good thing...because the mailman isn't coming back. Ever.

Possibility One

HE DREAMS OF BEING A RACE CAR DRIVER.

Your Insurance-At-Work auto policy pays to repair the damage after he releases the parking brake and rolls your car into the neighbor's truck across the street. He gives new meaning to the term "truck stop."

Possibility Two

HE DREAMS OF BEING A BASEBALL PLAYER.

Your Insurance-At-Work homeowners policy pays to repair the damage after your little slugger hits a ball over your fence and through your neighbor's window. His new nickname is "window pain."

Possibility Three

HE DREAMS OF BEING A STOCKBROKER.

With the savings from your Insurance-At-Work multi-policy discount, you let him play the market, where he earns you a bundle. Now, he's your "little darling."
